

Dedicated to Design...

In terms of design, many trends come and go. One specific style that seems to transcend this changing environment is the country style, which is called 'Landhausstil' in German. For our June issue, we have taken on the task of assembling five exciting items following this very particular style. Surely, these items will also stand the test of time and may become a permanent feature in your home.

BY: THOMAS SCHROERS

1. Here is a beautiful bookshelf from the Mix & Match collection by Austrian label SUPPAN & SUPPAN. Mix & Match enables you to create your very own country combination, as you can choose sizes and finishes that fit your taste. Manufactured out of European pinewood, the displayed wall is a combination of three individual pieces. In total: £2,900. www.suppanundsuppan.at

2. This etagere will convince you with its flexible use in the interior or exterior. Whether delightful decoration, fresh fruits or picturesque plants, the etagere will give each of these items a perfect home. £50. www.country-garden.de

3. Here is another item that will complete your rooms and spaces. Made from metal and covered with an antique patina, including rusty spots, this lamp is multipurpose and will adapt to almost any surrounding. With adjusting screws and a concertina design, it can easily be adjusted into various positions. £125. www.wohnlair.com

4. Stop searching for the essentials with this trio of colourful storage cans. Handcrafted, as well as hand-painted, the cans are artful in their ceramic look and wooden lid. The bright red colour also gives them an eye-catching, exciting look that will brighten your day. £20. www.helmatwerke.de

5. 'La vie est belle' is the inscription on this beautiful wall clock and the name says it all. Sporting a retro charm, this piece will fit right into your country design, be it at home or in an office. The hands are available in black and silver. £30. www.wall-art.de

